Best HF Radio for a Beginner

For July we are going to look at a video from the folks at hamradioprep.com. MVARA uses the HRP study materials for our license classes and we have had good results with them. HRP has produced a lot of videos to help their students and one of them is called “Top 5 HF Ham Radios for Beginners.” We will watch the video and follow that with a discussion. Do we agree with their recommendations – why or why not? Do we have recommendations for new Generals buying their first HF Radio. If you have a radio that you think would be good for beginners, feel free to bring it and do a show and tell.
